Jennifer Squires Productions, Our Story

Jennifer Squires Ross was born in Toronto, Ontario, Canada and spent her formative years in the tiny hamlet of Hockley Village. In 1995 she decided to spread her wings and move to London, Ontario where she earned two diplomas in photography from Fanshawe College.

After college Jennifer relocated to Toronto, like many aspiring photographers do, and began working as a Producer and First Assistant to advertising photographer Matthew Plexman. In 2005 Jennifer moved back to London where she was asked to teach in the photography program at her alma mater.

Jennifer and her husband Darren now run a flourishing photography business out of their home in London. Jennifer specializes in picture taking and picture making while Darren is fondly known as the CFO (chief fax operator). He takes care of administrative tasks, plus he makes a mean hot chocolate; earning himself brownie points at 5am when Jennifer is off to a location shoot.

Today, Jennifer specializes primarily in minimalist landscape photography: seascapes in the summer months and snowy scenes in the winter. Her photographic prints are available via her website, select gift and home decor retailers, and can be licensed through Getty Images.

Jennifer has been featured in media outlets across North America, including Nonpareil Magazine, Style At Home, Design*Sponge, Artscape Magazine, The London Free Press, and Atlanta Home Improvement. Photo Life Magazine listed her as one of 2009's Emerging Photographers.
